INTRODUCTION

I am a highly skilled front-end developer with a strong foundation in building responsive, dynamic web and mobile applications using modern frameworks like React.js, Vue.js, and Flutter. My expertise lies in creating engaging user interfaces, optimizing performance, and ensuring smooth user experiences across various platforms.

While my primary focus is front-end development, I also have hands-on experience with back-end technologies like Node.js, NestJS, and PHP Laravel, allowing me to work efficiently on full-stack projects when needed. I excel in collaborating with teams to transform ideas into functional, visually appealing applications and enjoy keeping up with the latest trends in front-end development.

OBJECTIVE

Seeking a Junior Front-End Developer role to enhance skills in building responsive, user-focused web interfaces, with short-term growth in mastering front-end technologies and long-term goals of becoming a Full-Stack Developer contributing to innovative projects.
